MORE "PEP" IS WANTED IN THE VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN

Meeting of Chairman Will Be Held This Evening to Discuss Features

TROPHY TRAIN WAS A FEATURE

Chairman Kerfoot W. Daly, accompanied by R. R. Crookston, special assistant, is making a trip over his territory, today in order to instil a little more "pep" into the campaign if it is possible. Fredericktown, Millsboro, Centerville, Beallsville, Bentleyvile and other sections in the eastern part of the county will be visited and the chairmen of these communities interviewed.

Upon his return to Charleroi this evening a meeting of all the local chairmen of committees will be held at Victory Liberty loan headquarters Fifth and Fallowfield and plans laid for arousing more interest in the closing day of thecampaign. There remains but little more than one week in which to reach the quota of this district, and every chairman is earnestly urged to arrange to attend the meeting. It is of the utmost importance that they do so.

The visit of thetrophy train last evening resulted in thesale of about $12,250 in Victory Liberty bonds. The train arrived on schedule, and was placed on the freight siding next to McKean avenue, where a short open-air meeting was held, after which the people were permitted to view the trophies which the train carried and had been sent to the United from the battlefields of France

The speakers were Private Guy Brown, who saw service with the Thirty-seventh Division and First Class Private Neal C. Ellis of Battery C, 135th Field Artillery. Both of these men saw strenuous service overseas and each t old an interesting story of his experiences while facing the Boche. At the conclusion of the meeting the public was admitted to the train and viewed the many trophies which had been collected and which are now being exhibited in various cities throughout the country.

The flat cars carried a number of field guns, including one of the famous French 77's, one of the most effective guns used on the western front. A German field piece, as well as trench mortar. German sea mines and other instruments of destruction, and which were used during the war were on exhibition and their workings and uses were explained by the men who accompanied the train. While their stay in Charleroi was brief, lasting less than three hours, all those who desired to see the trophies had an opportunity to do so, and all were well satisfied with the exhibit.

The train left here shortly after 7 o'clock for Donora and at a late hour last night went on to Washington, Pa., where it exhibited this forenoon.

TO CLOSE WAR CHEST

Auditors Have Been Appointed To Go Over All Accounts

REPORT WILL BE PUBLISHED

The Charleroi War Chest Fund has closed, and beginning with May 1st no further subscriptions will be received. Any who have paid their May subscription will have it returned by the directors. A meeting of the Board of Directors was held Wednesday evening at which time it was decided to close the Fund and auditors were appointed to make a thorough inspection of the receipts and expenditures and the records and accounts of the organization.

The auditors chosen were L. J. Mitchell from the First National Bank. S. W. Sharpnack from the Charleroi Savings and Trust Company, and Charles Bateman from the Bank of Charleroi. After the auditors have completed their work the audit list will be published, that subscribers may see how the money contributed was expended.

It has also been suggested that the amount pledged by each subscriber be set forth as well as the amount paid and the amount delinquent. One of the deplorable features of the association is the large number of delinquents, as well as the refusal of some of them to pay what they pledged because they say "the war is over."

According to the books the total amount collected during the past eleven months was about $72.000. leaving a delinquent list of about $14,000. The directors hope that the greater portion if not all of this amount will be paid before the Fund is permanently closed.

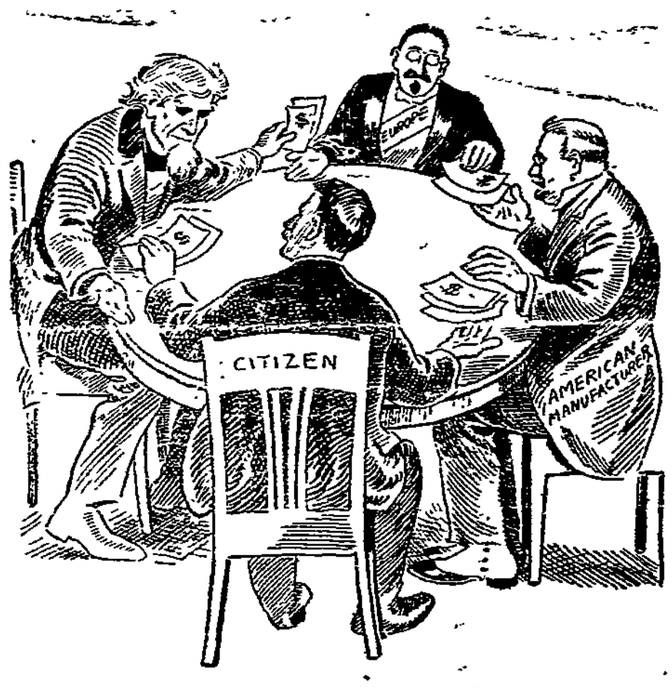
Victory Loan Round Table



THE HONORABLE SCARS

In former Liberty Loan campaigns you saw numerous veterans of the world war, Canadians. English. French, every one of them marked for life. You heard them tell of the horrors of the battlefield, of the trenches. of German atrocities. Of all that war meant in this day of finely adjusted killing efficiency.

And you felt like taking off your hats to the missing arm or leg, the blinded eye, the shattered hand, the halting limp.

Very soon you probably will see more veterans. bearing also the honorable scars, but they will be in khaki. Americans. Possibly men you know.

They will be asking you not for your tribute to their sacrifice, their suffering, their unquestioned loyalty, their devotion to national ideals.

But for an expression of your patriotism in behalf of your country.

That you turn to and help put Uncle Sam's Victory Loan over the top.

That you lend him once more the money he so urgently needs just now.

That you help him protect his honor as they helped him protect it.

Only there will be no lifelong penalty for you as there was for them. No harrowing memories that die slowly. No nightmares that make hideous your nights. No irreconcilable sense of loss, of helpessness. of dependence.

Instead of your money you will get the government's assurance of repayment, backed by the aggregate wealth of your country. You will reap an interest earning for the period of your loan. You gain instead of losing.

And Uncle Sam will be enabled to put American industry, American commerce, American prosperity back upon their feet again. To continue looking the world proudly and confidently in the eye.

To regard pridefully the honorable scars of his warrior sons without having to bow his head in shame for his millions of stay-at-homes who failed.

As yet America has none but honorable scars.

Let's see that she has no others.

Attempted Wrecking Of Brownsville Boro Building

What is believed to have been an anarchistic plot to destroy the borough building of Brownsville resulted in an explosion in that structure at 3 o'clock this morning, badly wrecking it and burning two presoners who were in the cells underneath the point where the explosion took place.

It is the opinion of the local authorities that nitro-glycerine was used in this dastardly attempt and they do not hesitate to attribute it to anarchists. From the appearance of the surroundings the explosive was placed in the office of the Burgess, as it was here that the greatest damage was done. Apparently the force of the explosion was downward, ripping flooring and plastering and causing several hundred dollars worth of damage to the building, which is of brick and which is located at the corner of Market and New Water street.

A theory was advanced that the explosion might have been caused by escaping gas, but had this been the cause it is contended the six prisoners who were confined in the cells in the building would have either been burned to death or have been killed by the force of the explosion.

The officers have no clue as to who the perpetrators of the deed are. but but are making a rigid investigation in an effort to place the responsibility on the guilty parties. There was no May Day demonstration in Brownsville on Thursday, nor any unusual gathering of any kind to which the outrage could be attributed, it evidently being the work of some one or two individuals. The incident caused a great deal of excitement in Brownsville. and citizens are at a loss to ascertain the reasons for the bombing of the building.

THE RETURN OF DISCORD

There was harmony as long as the nations were united in the common purpose and imperative need of defeating the Teutonic powers. That accomplished, unselfish union very soon gave place to self-seeking disunion. Each of the victorious nations wanted something and promptly set about its attainment. France, with more excuse than the average, demanded such terms as she thought would make her secure from future German attack. Italy, with less excuse, wahted more territory than was consistent with announced non spoliation aims. What England wanted apart from a heavy indemnity has not been made very clear, but that she has industriously looked after her own interests may be taken for granted. Even America, which seeks no gains of a purely material sort, caused profound disturbance by insisting on entering a league of nations only with the Monroe doctrine intact and held in reserve.

Thus the harmony of union in a and the Peace Congress became a scene of the battle of conflicting national interests. A similar change was promptly noticeable within each of the victorious countries. Factions, political parties, conflicting interests, which during the war tactily declared a truce and suppressed their differences, resumed their old battle. Within each victorious naion as well as in thecouncil of the several nations contention became the order of the day. The Allied world resounded with the clamor of opposing voices, with secret friends of Germany craftily egging the fight on. Of constructive suggestion, manifestly, there has been too little of partisan feeling, with the effort to gain some advantage or other, there has been for too much. While it may be said that all this is inevitable and that nothing else was to be expected it should not be forgotten that all his furnishes abundant explanation of the difficulties and delays in the matter of reaching generally accepted agreements.

THREE ATTITUDES

A German looks "down" on a woman as an inferior, an American looks "up" to a woman as a superior, while a Frenchman looks "at" a woman as an equal, according to Mlle. Marguerite Clement a distinguished French college woman now lecturing in this country. Of course she thinks the French attitude is the proper one and that the American is the opposite extreme from the German. She contends that American women of the prosperous classes are too much sheltered and coddled for their own good and that she would be better off, especially in these times, if she were given a larger share of the responsibilities carried by themen of her family. There may be something in this view. Given more "culture" than her brother, yet given nothing to do that is worth while the young American woman of the prosperous class too often tends either toward neurasthenia or toward empty fads in her search for a vent for her unemployed energies.

A COUNTER-IRRITANT

Put radicalism in power and you have the surest cure in the world for radicalism in politics. Look at North Dakota, now in the clutches of the Non-Partisan League. Four of the party's state office holders under this regime are revolting against [illegible] the "autocratic rule" of [illegible] C. Townley, their tyrannical and selfish leader.

Disabled By Huns' Lead He Fights On With His Trombone

Sgt. Andy Kirkwood

The Huns are responsible for the fact that Sergeant Andy Kirkwood plays the trombone in the Great War Veterans' Band of Ottawa, Canada. That musical organization, headed by Lieut T W James, is making a tour of the Fourth Federal Reserve District in the interest of the Victory Loan.

If the Huns had not hurled a pound or so of lead into Sergeant James he would still be a member of a fighting unit He was discharged as "medically unfit," after nearly five years of fighting in France, but immediately re-enlisted in the Corps of Military Staff Clerks and became attached to the band

He fought at Richbourg, Festubert, Givenchy, Ploegsteert, Messines, Kimmel, Hill No. 60 and Observation Ridge and was wounded when leading his platoon behind a barrage He was in French, English and Canadian hospitals for eight months before he was able to be on his feet again.

His promotion to the rank or sergeant was won in active service in the field.

LEAD ON

"It is the duty of the press to lead and not to follow," says acontemporary. Then let us have a repeal of the laws that make the Postmaster General prosecutor, judge and executioner in cases in which the press is concerned. Present conditions do not strengthen leadership anywhere except in the officers of bureaucracy at Washington.

The German government's proposal of a plebescite on the peace terms is probably less of a threat of a refusal to accept than a desire to protect itself by making the German masses themselves responsible for acceptance.

Before the war less than a million Americans owned bonds of any kind Now there are 20,000,000 Liberty bond holders and the Victory bond holders will add greatly to this number.

The only man known to recommend the abolition of his own job when it paid as much as $12.000 a year is Francis Burton Harrison, Governor General of the Philippines.

Had Had an "Explain."

Kenneth and his cousin were especially fond of playing in the barn, and when told by his sister to be careful and to play only where there was no danger of being hurt Kenneth said, with a grownup air, "Oh, yes, we'll be careful 'cause daddy just gave us an explain all about that."

Favored by Nature.

The largest tongue in the world in proportion to its owner's size is that owned by the North Queensland hawk-moth, which sports a length of six and a half inches, although there is a long-horn beetle a little higher up in New Guinea, which has horns measuring 17 inches.

Art in Coins.

To the general student of art and history the greatest interest of coins arises from the fact that they form the earliest portrait gallery of royal personages. The oldest authentic portraits of English kings are those of Edward IV and Richard III.

Taking No Chances.

Two mothers, one with a five-year-old girl and the other with a seven-year-old boy, set out for a walk. For convenience it was suggested that the children walk together and ahead. Said the boy: "I will if they won't call it marry."

Just Like Willie.

BRAMBLEBRIAR TALES
H.B.L.—

MR. GROUNDHOG CHANGES HIS MIND.

One bright sunny morning, Mr Groundhog decided that he would walk down by the creek and pick out a suitable place for his garden. He walked slowly, his hands in his pockets, dreaming and thinking about the big luscious tomatoes he was going to raise that summer The sun grew warmer and warmer as it climbed up into the blue sky, and made large beads of sweat pop out on Mr. Ground Log's forehead.

"Whew," he exclaimed as he whisked out his handkerchief, and seated himself behind the high hedge fence along the road. "I reckon we'll have a blistering hot summer if this keeps up But then, of course, that's what makes fine tomatoes, and, after all, I shouldn't complain."

And as he lay resting and smoking his corncob pipe, his sharp ears caught the sound of voices, which seemed to come from the direction of Mr Crow's corn mill. He paid little attention to the voices until they were close enough so that he could distinguish his own name being mentioned Then he pricked up his ears and laid low

"Do you know," said one of the voices very distinctly, "that old Mr. Groundhog hasn't bought one Liberty Bond? And, what's more, I don't think he intends to buy any of the Victory Liberty Loan."

"I don't think we should have anything to do with him," said the other voice "Anybody who has as much money as old Mr. Groundhog, and refuses to help his country pay its war debts, should be ashamed to look his fellow citizens in the eye"

These same voices came from Mr. Bear and Mr Wolf, the most distinguished and important citizens of Bramblebriar Colony.

Mr Groundhog sat in deep silence for a long time thinking what Mr. Wolf and Mr. Bear had said about him Finally he rose to his feet and started down the road with a quick, determined step and never stopped until he came to the Bramblebriar bank. Walking up to Mr Fox who was the president of the bank he said:

"Mr Fox, I never knew what patriotism really meant to a man, but now I can see it clearly Please let me give you my subscription for the VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN."

And then Mr Groundhog started down the road to his cottage by the spring and he walked with a quicker step and wore a broader smile than was known to him in twenty years

You can't tell whether your battery is hungry or not by merely looking at it or by the way it acts, for a half charged battery will spin the engine with all the vim, apparently, of a fully charged one, and will keep the lights almost as bright.

But wait! Do you know what a starved battery is? Its one that wont hold a charge—a battery that has been repeatedly undercharged.

To insure long life and satisfactory services your battery must be kept fully charged and the cells filled with distilled water 1-2inch above the tops of the plates. HOW A YOUNG GIRL SUFFERED

And Was Restored to Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Told By Her Mother.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For three months she was under the doctor's care and got no better, always complaining about her back and side aching so I didn't know what to do. I read in the papers about your wonderful medicine so I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and doesn't complain any more with her back and side aching. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. FINORE, 516 Marcy Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Devil-Dogs Work Hun's Big 77

THIS German 77 millimeter gun once hurled high explosive shells into the ranks of the Allies. It was captured at Belleu Wood and turned against the Huns by an American gun crew.

This picture shows a crew of American Marines in action with this gun. It is about to fire, as one can see by looking at the man on the left with his hands over his ears. The Marine just behind him is ready to insert a fresh shell into the breech.

This cannon and these Marines are traveling through the Fourth Federal Reserve District in charge of Captain Shaler Ladd to show the public some of the things the American troops had to face in saving the world from the Hun. Captain Ladd and his ten men have all seen service at Verdun, Soissons, Belleau Woods, St. Mihiel and Chateau Thierry, and have all been gassed and wounded.

The train which carries them is known as War Trophy Train No. 3 and is loaded with hundreds of captured war trophies with just as tragic a history as this cannon. Every exhibit has a story which to every American can only be an added argument as to the necessity for the Victory Loan. Every one of these Marines has faced death in a terrible form many times. Their job is finished. But here they are out helping us home folk to finish our job.

These trophy trains are virtually moving war museums. All the cars are electrically lighted and the exhibits so arranged that the public may see and examine them. Motion picture shows are thrown from the trains evenings.

COURT SUSTAINS DAMAGE VERDICT

A new trial was refused by Judge McIlvaine in the suit of John G. Lowers against the Pennsylvania Railroad company, which was tried at the last term of common pleas court. Judgment is to be entered in favor of the plaintiff as of date of March 12, 1919, and against the defendant company in the sum of $4,446.63.

This was a suit for damages for a small tract of land taken by the railroad company in Elco borough, for its right of way. The jury found in favor of the plaintiff for $3,800 with interest at six per cent from May 11, 1916. The court instructed the jury that the amount would have to be named in a lumpsum. This was done and the final verdict was for $4,446.63. The railroad company took exceptions to this on the grounds that no greater verdict could be found than $3,800, theamount first named.

The examination board to conduct the examinations is composed of R. M. Archibald of Waynesburg, president, R. G. Dean of Monongahela as secretary and H. S. Kuder of Washington.

RECENT TRANSFERS IN REAL ESTATE

Local real estate transfers of recent date and which have been placed on record at Washington recently, are as follows: Sarah Elizabeth Rider executrix of John Rider, late of Charleroi, to Ellis R. Spahr, of Fallowfield township, a tract of 42 acres and 93 perches in Fallowfield township, coal reserved, consideration $7.100 and Annie M. Trinder et con., Fallowfield township to Chauncey G. Collins Charleroi, a tract of one acre in Fallowfield township, coal reserved, consideration $300.

ENTERTAINMENT AT THE CURTIN SCHOOL

A last-day and fruit scoial will be held at the Curtin school, Fallowfield township, Wednesday, May 1. An entertainment by the pupils will precede the social and will commence at 8 o'clock. After the entertainment a social hour will be held, during which time cake walks, guess cakes and a fishpond will feature. The proceeds from the social will be given to the Armenian relief fund.

According to a Washington dispatch, "all reasonable men of both parties are agreed that we must have the best peace possible." If that were all the people of this country and of the Allied nations need to come to agreement upon, how delightfully simple the matter would be.

THREATENED TO SHOOT; IS TAKEN TO JAIL

Pervis Jefferson, employed at the plate glass works, was taken to the Washington jail this morning, having been committed by Justice Nutt on charges of assault with a deadly weapon, pointing firearms and carrying concealed weapons. The prosecutor was Robert Lee, also employed at the plate works, the difficulty having occurred between the two men Thursday noon. The trouble originated over 40 cents which Lee owed to Mrs. Jefferson and which led to an argument between the two men. Jefferson, it is alleged, threatened to cut Lee, who picked up a brick. Then Jefferson is alleged to have gone back home and got his revolver for the purpose of shooting Lee. This led to the charge and Jefferson's trip to jail.

SOME CONTRACTORS GRANT THE SCALE

It is reported that building contractors in Uniontown have agreed to the scale presented to them by the trades unions and the men continued work. At Wilson, just below Clairton, where a large amount of work is under way, it is also said that independent contractors have agreed to the new scale and their men have continued on the job. The work for the Carnegie Steel Company, however, is tied up on account of the determination of the corporation to refuse the increased granted. There is no change in the situation in this section of the valley, all of the contractors having so far refused to grant the increase asked for by the men.

FIVE HUNDRED CLUB SLOWLY INCREASING

The "Five Hundred Club" of the Victory Liberty loan is slowly increasing in membership and Dr. Hetrick, who is the head of the committee, expects to enroll a large number of other citizens before the campaign closes. Those added within the past two days are: Sarah A. Pinyard, John S. Carson, Samuel Michiotes, Ignatius Birken, J. D. Berryman, Elmer J. Kiefer, Slovak Evangelical Union of America, Paul Trnavsky, George S. Might's Sons, Mrs. Laura B. Worley, Henry Manly Woodward Furniture & Carpet company, John F. Laird, Mrs. Nannie Laird, Mrs. Nina Wright, Walter Byerly.

Governor Edge of New Jersey has signed a minimum wage bill for teachers under the provisions of which no educator of that State shall receive less than $70 a month. That sum is small indeed in these times of high costs, but not as small as many school teachers are receiving.

Twenty-four out of the 116 men of the senior class at Prince-University admit that they never kissed a girl. Shyness and lack of promising opportunity are doubtless prominent among the variety of causes of such unusual records.

WILL MAKE A BIG FILL BELOW DONORA

It is reported that the American Steel and Wire Company has purchased the McIlvain, Beazell and Baird tracts of land just below Donora and which were owned by the Phipps estate for the past twenty years. These tracts of land embrace approximately about three hundred acres of bottom and hill land, which in previous years were largely used for farming. The steel company is now engaged in filling the bottom land with slag and cinders, which will take a number of years to complete. The biggest "fill" will be on Baird property, a short distance south of the railroad tower, at a point where a deep ravine cuts into the land. The tracks of the Donora Southern are being slowly exended down the river, and when constructed to the end of the property line will end just beyond the big slack pile left at that point by the old Buzzard mine, years ago. The taking over of this land will mean a great change in the landmarks of that section of the Monongahela valley.

About Victory Bonds

If buying Victory Bonds were a matter of exchanging your good dollars for a scrap of questionable paper there would be ample cause to hesitate.

But buying Bonds or, as it should be said—loaning your money on Bonds—is an act of prudence.

It's an act of Patriotism, too! And Patriotism is not measured by what you have done but by what you continue to do

The goodness and safety of the investment above justifies every thrifty individual to own all the bonds possible.

4 3-4 per cent interest cannot be had every day, backed by the entire resources of your country.

It shouldn't cause much thinking for anyone to open their purse strings for the investment alone. It is a safe way to save and let your money earn. It is also a Patriotic duty to your country, your boys and your home town.

110TH IS ON THE WAY FROM FRANCE

The One Hundred and Tenth Infantry, the last unit of the Twenty-eighth Division, to leave France, is now on the way home. According to information from Washington the regiment left France on Tuesday, April 29th, sailing on two vessels, the Edward Luckenbach, which sailed from St. Nazaire, with Companies A, B, C, D, and E, the regimental headquarters and other units of the 110th, a total of 27 officers and 1962 men. The balance of the regiment is on the Santa Olivia, which sailed from Brest on thesame day. Most of the men will go to Camp Dix for demobilization being due to arrive at some Atlantic port on the 12th of May. The replacement men from other states will go to Camps Sherman, Grant and Funston, but they are comparatively few.

It has been definitely determined that the Division will not parade in Philadelphia, but it is likely that the Fifty-fifth Infantry Brigade, made up of the 109th and 110th Infantry, will go to that city about the middle of the month for a reception.

Monongahela, which is making arrangements for the reception of the members of Company A, hopes to have the boys home some time before the latter part of the month.

STREET CAR MEN ARE AWAITING DEVELOPMENTS

No further move will be made by the car men of the Pittsburg Railways company, according to officials of Division No. 85, of Pittsburg. The men said they were "resting on their oars," pending the arrival from Detroit of officers of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes, who will come to Pittsburg to confer with local union members on the situation. In the meantime the motormen and conductors will continue at work, pending a decision by the national officials.

"THE SPIRIT OF MEMORIALS"

As the spring blossoms into summer we feel, some of us, the absense of those dear ones who have passed to "the beyond." We miss their laughter, their kindnesses, their caresses. Ought we not give actual expression to the loving remembrance in which they are held?

The custom of marking their resting places is as old and as beautiful as the old, old world itself.

We cannot honor our loved ones more, nor perpetuate their memory more effectively, than by the erection of a monument. Properly carved, by a master artisan, such a memorial is a lasting tribute to our affection for them.

Is there not some one whose memory deserves this recognition from you?
